

Nick Aimone

5/12/11

Class President Speech

Leadership. Defined as the ability to guide or show the way. Being a leader cannot be trained or taught. It comes naturally from the day you are born to your final hours. I have been a leader my whole life and do not intend on stopping. My ability to provide guidance and direction makes me a perfect candidate for the presidential position. My wits and excellent decision making skills are my best attributes which are very necessary for one intending to be a leader. If elected president of the Class of 2013 I will present myself as the best possible role model for my peers. Making all the right choices and taking charge of all responsibilities associated to the current sophomore class. I will collaborate with my fellow class officers to make our upcoming junior year the best it can possibly be. If elected class president, you will instantly realize that the right choice has been made for voting for such an intelligent, caring, responsible high schooler as me. Vote for Nick Aimone!