PUBLIC HEALTH ADVISORY

FDA HAS SPECIAL LINK TO SUSPECT PEANUT PRODUCTS

Since there are so many products with varying lot codes being recalled due to the nationwide outbreak of Salmonella cases in processed peanut products, the Food and Drug Safety Program (FDSP) recommends visiting the FDA's frequently-updated Web page of recalled peanut butter products at the following Web link:

<http://www.accessdata.fda.gov/scripts/peanutbutterrecall/index.cfm>

Some of these products have been identified as having been distributed into New Jersey.

The Ocean County Health Department is requesting that you post this Web link on your own Web site as a public health service to the community.

This link is available on the Ocean County Health Department Web site under the Breaking News section of the Home Page.
