Do you love to write? What better way to become a better writer than to surround yourself with others who have the same passion? The Southern Writers' Society is the newest addition to the lineup of clubs and activities here at Southern. It was designed for students who love to write and would like a place to sharpen their skills, flex their creative writing muscles, and connect and share their ideas with other writers. Whether you have been writing your own stories for years or you just think it is something you might like to try, we invite you to become a part of the Southern Writers' Society. Come visit us at our first writing workshop on Tuesday, September 27th in Room E-8. If you are unable to attend our first workshop but are still interested in being a part of our group, please stop in and see Mrs. Reynolds in Room E8 or Ms. Stefanski in Room C8 for information. We are excited to get started, and we can't wait to see you there!
